WHAT IS ENVIRONMENTALLY RESPONSIBLE BEHAVIOUR?

Environmentally responsible behaviour describes tourist behaviour during or after trip that is essential to environmental protection and well-being of tourist destinations and it seeks to reduce negative effects of an individual to the environment.

So, are you environmentally responsible? Take this quiz to find out!

When I do outdoor activities (e.g., hiking, jogging, horseback riding, skiing, cycling), I stay within the allowed area.	YES	NO
I do not disturb animals and vegetation in the campsite.
I do not harm plants and animals in the campsite.
I do not collect flora and fauna specimens without permission.
I do not turn rocks and dry wood.
During my stay in the campsite, I use environmentally friendly products to maintain hygiene.
During my stay in the campsite, I use products with ecological labels.
During my stay in the campsite, I buy products or services from locals.
During my stay in the campsite, I am careful not to make noise and disturb other guests.
During my stay at the campsite, I conserve water.
During my stay in the campsite, I conserve energy.
During my stay in the campsite, I separate waste.
After leaving the campsite, I leave the place as clean as it was.
During my stay in the campsite, I use the car as least as possible as means of transport.
During my stay in the campsite, I throw cigarette butts or chewing gums in a designated place.
I encourage others to save water in the campsite.
I encourage others to save energy in the campsite.
I encourage others not to disturb animals and damage the plants in the campsite.
I encourage others to separate waste in the campsite.
I encourage others to pick up litter left by other people while in the campsite.
I encourage others to leave the campsite as clean as it was.
I encourage others to throw cigarette butts or chewing gums in a designated place.

If you answered yes to 10 or more questions – congratulations!

You are an environmentally responsible tourist!

If you care about the environment and want to preserve it or if you want to be more environmentally responsible and still enjoy your camping vacation, try visiting some of these campsites which give thoughtful attention to “being green”:

ENVIRONMENTALLY RESPONSIBLE BEHAVIOUR

Why is your behaviour in the campsite important?

Did you know that tourists can be the biggest polluters of the environment?

Tourist behaviour in the tourist destination can cause many ecosystem devastations, including increased CO<sub>2</sub> emissions, increased energy and water consumption, waste disposal, coastal devastation, and other negative consequences for the environment. That is why we all have to be environmentally responsible.
